Wednesday, 4/25/18 7PM

Arshay Cooper's life is a study in determination, discipline and the power of sports to overcome extreme life challenges. His recent memoir, Sugawater, tells a very personal story that resonates with youth and adults alike. The captain of the first all-black high school rowing team on the Westside of Chicago, Arshay literally rowed for success. A Benjamin Franklin award-winning author, US Rowing Golden Oars winner and motivational speaker, Arshay was also a chef for WWE, Warner Bros, and Blackbird. His book will be available for purchase.
