RABBI LEE

Dear Friends,

I have been unpacking my two week-long stay in Israel in various venues in our synagogue since my circuitous journey back to New York late July. A Friday night service, a session of the Men's Group, the first meeting of this year's seminar on Zionism, and many, many conversations over meals and in the synagogue parking lot have provided me with opportunities to reflect on the complicated and fraught fortnight Jodie and I spent in what one contemporary Zionist has called "The Too Much Promised Land." The most challenging forum for me was Rosh HaShana morning. To offer a coherent narrative in ten pages (double spaced) that did justice to the many people with whom we met who represented political views ranging from right of center Israelis to left of center Palestinians, with a graffiti artist, a circus comprised of Israeli and Palestinian teenaged gymnasts, and a secular rock star who teaches Talmud to other secularists thrown into the mix while Hamas and Israel were battling out in the foreground, was most difficult. It took many weeks to sort it all out and a few weeks more to write it all down.

I appreciate your appreciating how difficult it all was for me. I appreciate more how generously you received my thoughts, which are part of my ongoing written and mental journal that began with my first year-long experience in Israel forty years ago. I especially appreciate how well received the talk was by people who do not agree with me. This is uncommon in today's Jewish world where civil discourse about Israel is almost impossible to find. I do not take for granted that our congregation is still a place where ideas can be exchanged with respect and consideration, where we can live with our own opinions while engaging in dialogue with others.

I think that rabbis are as good as the congregations they serve. To quote a lesson from the Talmud: "A rabbi cannot teach what a community cannot receive." The positive responses to my address are a reflection of a community that is open, responsive, tolerant, and accepting. After thirty-three years, I still feel privileged to be a part of it.

Most appreciatively,
Lee

ASHOKAN RETREAT for Grades 3-6

Once again this year we are asking the children in our school to participate in a weekend retreat we call ASHOKAN. This wonderful program was designed in response to a report of the Bureau of Jewish Education, which found that weekend programs of this nature, away from home and synagogue, provide a unique opportunity for significant Jewish learning and community. The children in our school have found their Ashokan experience a way to bond with other students and our staff. Part of the cost of this program is underwritten by a member family of the congregation who found the experience most meaningful to their children.

On Friday, December 5, 2014 the gimmel, daled, hay and vav classes will be going to Ashokan Field Campus, near the Ashokan Reservoir in upstate New York for a wonderful weekend. We leave the synagogue at 2:00 p.m. on Friday and are due to arrive at Ashokan before Shabbat dinner. We will return to RSNS on Sunday around 3 p.m. Space is limited and we will take paid reservations on a first-come-first-served basis. Call the RSNS office for permission forms and answers to any of your questions.

The nursery school classes are busy with the work and play of young children. We are using manipulatives, building with blocks, creating artwork by experimenting with color and collage, reading and writing stories, and cooking delicious treats to eat at snack and Shabbat. We enjoyed decorating the sukkah and eating snack and lunch in the sukkah. We are enjoying the fall weather and are exploring all the aspects of pumpkins. We will continue to explore fall as we get ready to celebrate Thanksgiving.

Thanks to the Plandome Fire Department for providing all our classes with a program on fire safety. We especially liked sitting in the fire engine.

ADULT STUDIES & SEMINARS

EAT READ TALK

A New Discussion Group

Rabbi Lee will initiate a new day-time program at the synagogue on Thursday, November 13th 12:30 p.m. He's inviting people to come with lunch for a ninety minute period to read an article from a newspaper, magazine, book, or journal of Jewish interest, and then to talk about its contents. Please give Sharon or Sylvia a call if you are planning to attend, so we know where to set things up. Lee hopes to make this a twice a month experience beginning in December.

BIBLE STUDY

This group has been and continues to be committed to reading every word of the Hebrew Bible (in English translation). After more than a decade and a half, the group has reached the so-called Minor Prophets, minor not in importance, but in the amount of material that has survived of theirs. We will pick up the reading with the Book of Habbakuk and will move on to Psalms in the course of the year. This seminar meets biweekly on Thursday nights from 8:00 to 9:30 p.m. This month's meetings are on November 6th and the 20th.

SHABBAT SEMINAR

The History of Israel: A Documentary Approach: We began our examination of Zionism six years ago through the lens of the writings of Zionist and anti-Zionist ideologues. Last year we arrived at the founding of the modern State and reached beyond to the Six Day War. We will continue to critically review the development of the State through original political and sociological documents. This seminar meets biweekly on Shabbat afternoons from noon to 1:30 p.m. This month's meetings are on November 8th and the 22nd.

YIDDISH READING CIRCLE

We meet on average, every other week on a Friday at 10:00 a.m. in the RSNS Library. For more information and a schedule contact Jerry Bloom at 466-2519.

WOMEN'S ROSH HODESH GROUP

Traditional religious ritual was designed, and continues, to meet a variety of needs that relate to life passages: The need for the individual to be acknowledged by community, the need for the community/tribe to read itself into the passages of each member, the need for bonding, which serves both individual and community, the need to (re-)enact dramatically the great stories and messages of the tradition, for the sake of individuals and of the tradition. Through rituals, we create structures that provide an element of predictability and, therefore, safety, around times of insecurity, transition, and/or loss. All women of our congregation are welcome to join us as we continue to study, and learn from each other. Our next meeting is Wednesday, November 12th, 7:30 p.m.

ADULT B'NAI MITZVAH CLASS

Our formal studies will culminate in a joint B'nai Mitzvah service on June 20, 2015. This year will be exciting and very busy. Class Meets – most Tuesdays 8:00 – 9:30 p.m.

Our adult b'nai mitzvah class will be presenting their D'vrai Torah in small groups according to the schedule listed below. The congregation is invited to attend these services.

All men in the congregation are invited to attend. The next meeting is on Wednesday, November 12th at 7:30 p.m. Coffee and some snacks will be available.

Rabbinic Mentorship Program

The Reconstructionist Rabbinical College (RRC), and the Jewish Reconstructionist Federation (JRF) and the Reconstructionist Rabbinical Association (RRA) have collaborated to create a program of rabbinical studentAmentorships@ at JRF-affiliated congregations. Our rabbinic intern, Georgette Kennebrae, will visit our congregation five times within the program year for a mentoring experience. Our congregation will have the opportunity to gain close contact with future Reconstructionist rabbinic leaders and benefit from the fresh learning and emerging talent of an RRC student. The rabbinical student will gain practical experience in the day-to-day life of the congregational rabbinate and increase their familiarity with Reconstructionist practice in a flourishing Reconstructionist community.

We would love to have members of the congregation host Georgette in their home. Her next visit will be from November 21st – 23rd. Please contact the office if you can help welcome her into our community.

ART SHOWS AT RSNS

So many RSNS members are involved with the arts. It's time to continue our ongoing art shows in the Social Hall. All works are for sale and 25% of the sale is a tax deductible contribution to the synagogue.

We schedule a few months in advance of a show and can accommodate paintings, photographs and another media that can be mounted on walls. Artists can be members, family and friends of members and/or those whose works contain Jewish themes. No nudes as we want all ages to be comfortable.

WE did it together, once! Let's do it again! A Matching Grant To Help RSNS Meet Its Fundraising Goals

Rabbi Lee has generously decided to provide an $18,000 matching grant.

The first $6000 is a dollar for dollar grant for all contributions made to help us meet our target for contributions and fund-raising.

The second $6000 is one dollar for every two dollars contributed by members.

The third $6000 is one dollar for every three dollars contributed by members.

We hope that everyone who is in a financial position to help will take this opportunity to increase the impact of their contribution and support Rabbi Lee in his giving.

This will be one of multiple efforts to reach our fundraising goals. Among these are the following; we will continue to encourage members to help underwrite their favorite programs; we will be reaching out to encourage planned annual giving.

With your participation, the matching grant and all of our efforts this year will be a success.
