RABBI LEE

Dear Friends,

Philip Sherzer was that teacher, the one who changes the way you had always thought about the world, the teacher who challenges you to critically question everything for the rest of your life. He sat on his desk the first day of class with our American history textbooks piled at his side, handing one to each of us as we made our way to our desks. “Gentlemen, open the books to the inside cover and tell me what you learn,” he demanded. It was blank except for a stamped signature plate that bore the names of its previous readers. I would be number three of ten to use the book. From this I observed that the book was relatively new. (For example, I was number eighteen of ten to use my English grammar book!) “Now turn to the publication page and tell me what you learn from it,” Sherzer continued. I noted that it was two years older than the first signature on the book stamp. “Now turn to the index and together recite the page numbers listed under ‘Vietnam War.’” With our silence – for there were no citations – Sherzer declared the textbook to have been obsolete even before it rolled off the press. “The world is on fire, boys, and you may well be called by our government to extinguish the fire it has set in Vietnam. The book you hold in your hands will be of no use to you in deciding whether or not the cause will be worth your life, or the life of the fellow sitting in the desk next to you. So store the book in your lockers for the year.”

In place of the textbook, Sherzer assigned The New York Times as our required reading. He secured us free Monday to Friday student subscriptions, though it fell to us to pick up Sunday’s Times on our own. Monday always began with a quiz based on the previous day’s “Week in Review” (now ambiguously titled “Sunday Review,” which would have made Sherzer shutter). Within in a month, we were all addicted, I most especially. Having been educated in an Orthodox Jewish day school where all texts were held to be sacred, it did not take long for me to accept the Times as Torah, too. So you can imagine my ‘crises of faith’ two months into the semester when Sherzer replaced the Times with The Wall Street Journal claiming that we had been duped by him to believe that the Times was worth more than a wrapping for fish. At mid-semester, we were given both papers to read synoptically in order to determine their respective biases. We had come to realize that neither paper was the repository of truth, no more than was our locked-away textbooks. We learned that history is no more than the interpretation of events, which is of little prospective value given the accelerating dynamic of our world.

What was true fifty years ago, is certainly true today. Although the absence of a universal draft does not impose the same personal sense of urgency about the Administration’s decision regarding ISIS, I believe that its commitment to address the present situation in the Middle East will have consequences equal to, or even greater than our country’s involvement in Vietnam. There is no textbook or group of pundits that can point the way with certainty, nor is past experience of significant help given the sui generis nature and entanglements regarding the present conflict. I only hope that those in our government who are vested with the responsibility of our military actions will act without hubris and look beyond domestic considerations to make the best decisions for us as a nation in the world.

May 5775 be a year for good and for peace in our homes, in our country, and in the world.

Fervently,
Lee

*Rabbi Jodie and Cantor Eric introducing the new timeline of Jewish History
(located in the Blue Room) during the Synagogue School Open House – 9/14/2014*

Nursery School classes began on September 8th and are off to a great start. Most of the children have successfully separated, and each day eager children enter their classrooms ready to work and play. New friendships are forming as we explore the different areas of our room and share snack, stories, and song. Our 3's Lunch Bunch and 4's Afterschool Program started on September 10th.

Our new Before and After Care Wrap-Around Program is meeting the needs of families who need daycare for their children before and after our traditional nursery school classes. We are accepting children from 7:30 AM – 6:30 PM each day.

All of the classes enjoyed getting ready for Rosh HaShana and Yom Kippur. How delicious apples dipped in honey taste. What a loud sound the Shofar makes! And the round challah with raisins was so yummy! The three and four year old classes met in the sanctuary with Rabbi Lee, Rabbi Jodie and Cantor Eric to see all the Torahs and sing songs for the holidays.

We are all looking forward to making decorations and eating snack in the Sukkah and marching with our flags for Simchat Torah. Our three and four year old classes are excited to take their first trips to the pumpkin farm this month.

Join us on Thursday October 23rd at 9:30 AM when Margy Ringelheim, L.C.S.W from Partners in Community Care (PICC) will present a workshop at our first Meet and Mingle Breakfast.

The fall is the time when we begin to make plans for the next school year. Registration for the 2015-16 school year will begin in October. Synagogue members and current enrollees and their siblings will have priority registration. Families that are new to Gan Shalom will begin registering on October 27th. Please call Laura Reich at 627-0257 to visit a classroom or obtain an application for the 2015-16 school year.

ADULT STUDIES

BIBLE STUDY

This group has been and continues to be committed to reading every word of the Hebrew Bible (in English translation). After more than a decade and a half, the group has reached the so-called Minor Prophets, minor not in importance, but in the amount of material that has survived of theirs. We will pick up the reading with the Book of Habbakuk and will move on to Psalms in the course of the year. This seminar meets biweekly on Thursday nights from 8:00 to 9:30 p.m. We will begin again on Thursday, October 23rd

SHABBAT SEMINAR

The History of Israel: A Documentary Approach: We began our examination of Zionism six years ago through the lens of the writings of Zionist and anti-Zionist ideologues. Last year we arrived at the founding of the modern State and reached beyond to the Six Day War. We will continue to critically review the development of the State through original political and sociological documents. This seminar meets biweekly on Shabbat afternoons from noon to 1:30 p.m. Our first meeting will be on October 11th. Please also join us on October 25th.

WOMEN'S ROSH HODESH GROUP

Traditional religious ritual was designed, and continues, to meet a variety of needs that relate to life passages: The need for the individual to be acknowledged by community, the need for the community/tribe to read itself into the passages of each member, the need for bonding, which serves both individual and community, the need to (re-)enact dramatically the great stories and messages of the tradition, for the sake of individuals and of the tradition. Through rituals, we create structures that provide an element of predictability and, therefore, safety, around times of insecurity, transition, and/or loss. All women of our congregation are welcome to join us as we continue to study, and learn from each other. Our first meeting for this year is Wednesday, October 8th, 7:30 p.m.

YIDDISH READING CIRCLE

We meet on average, every other week on a Friday at 10:00 a.m. in the RSNS Library. For more information and a schedule contact Jerry Bloom at 466-2519.

CANTOR'S DINNER

Friday, October 17th, 6:30 – 8:00 p.m.

Join Cantor Eric for a wonderful discussion and dinner as we explore the topic of the year “THIS IS A TEXT: A survey of Jewish texts from the Torah to the Internet - how they were created, and how they’re connected.” . $18 for dinner, or come for FREE just for the discussion at 7:00 p.m. Please RSVP to Cantor Eric (rsnscantor@gmail.com) (whether you’re coming to the dinner OR just the discussion!) by Monday, October 13th. AND WHY NOT BRING A FRIEND

ADULT B'NAI MITZVAH CLASS

Our formal studies will resume on September 9 and culminate in a joint B'nai Mitzvah service on June 20, 2015. This year will be exciting and very busy.

Meetings – Tuesdays 8:00 – 9:30 p.m.

Our adult b'nai mitzvah class will be presenting their D'vrai Torah in small groups according to the schedule listed below. The congregation is invited to attend these services.

December 20, 2014, 2:00 p.m.

Diane Sharett-Globus, Michele Lord,
Ellen Greenfield, Jane Buford

January 24, 2015, 2:00 p.m.

Marian Schwartz, Tom Hicks, Marty Budow

February 28, 2015, 2:00 p.m.

Susan Rosenberg, Lisa Rafofsky,
Lisa Rutkovsky, Sarah Schulmiller

March 14, 2015, 2:00 p.m.

Debbie Kesselman, Tina Pomeranz,
Carol Blumenthal

A communal b'nai mitzvah will be held on Saturday, June 20, 2015, 9:45 a.m. All are invited!

MENS GROUP

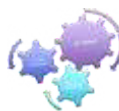

The Men's Group meets the second Wednesday of each month to discuss topics of interest selected by members. While the discussion starts off with a selected topic, the meetings move in many directions and are a wonderful way for members to get to know one another. All men in the congregation are invited to attend. The next meeting is on Wednesday, October 8th at 7:30 p.m. Coffee and some snacks will be available.

The topic for discussion will be: Think of all of the changes which have occurred during your lifetime (e.g., TV, computers, Xerox machines, airplanes, rocket to the moon, Medicare, Social Security, women's right to vote, gay rights, first black president, etc.). What changes of similar import can you imagine occurring in the 21st century (political, technological, social)?

Rabbinic Mentorship Program

The Reconstructionist Rabbinical College (RRC), and the Jewish Reconstructionist Federation (JRF) and the Reconstructionist Rabbinical Association (RRA) have collaborated to create a program of rabbinical studentAmentorships@ at JRF-affiliated congregations. Our rabbinic intern, Georgette Kennebrae, will visit our congregation five times within the program year for a mentoring experience. Our congregation will have the opportunity to gain close contact with future Reconstructionist rabbinic leaders and benefit from the fresh learning and emerging talent of an RRC student. The rabbinical student will gain practical experience in the day-to-day life of the congregational rabbinate and increase their familiarity with Reconstructionist practice in a flourishing Reconstructionist community.

Georgette's next visit will be from October 7th – 9th. Please welcome her into our community.

ART SHOWS AT RSNS

So many RSNS members are involved with the arts. It's time to continue our ongoing art shows in the Social Hall. All works are for sale and 25% of the sale is a tax deductible contribution to the synagogue.

We schedule a few months in advance of a show and can accommodate paintings, photographs and another media that can be mounted on walls. Artists can be members, family and friends of members and/or those whose works contain Jewish themes. No nudes as we want all ages to be comfortable.
