

One World Girl

Embracing Diversity Workshop Girls Exploring Their Stories and Their World

What:

A FREE 2-hour workshop offering teenage girls an interactive, creative learning environment to share their story and explore important life issues with peers from different religious, ethnic, cultural and racial backgrounds.

This workshop is specifically designed to empower and educate our young girls to look beyond current perspectives and challenging experiences to deepen understanding, break down barriers, build community and transform lives.

As they embrace their leadership gifts, knowledge and confidence, they recognize their unique value and personal power to be agents for change in their communities and world.

When/Where:

Our Embracing Diversity workshop (with dinner) takes place on Tuesday, November 28, from 6pm - 8pm at the Reconstructionist Synagogue of the North Shore, 1001 Plandome Road, Plandome, NY 11030.

Why:

Every girl deserves an opportunity to grow in self-awareness, embrace life on a deep, authentic level, deepen respect for diversity and determine how she can contribute to the world.

This workshop is open to all girls, ages 12 – 17!
